Personal Journeys

Anita Roddick's right-hand woman, Barbara Sharples was in conversation to talk about her career, her influences and what working for one of the world's greatest business visionaries and activists was really like (– needless to say momentous!).

Words of Wisdom

The Heroine's Quest webinar, 'How to Kick Start or Refresh Your Vision', looking at how, at the heart of finding happiness and success and really making a change to your life both personal and professional, having a real vision is essential.

The Heroine's Journal

My regular blog, where I hope that by my own triumphs and trials in life as a wife, a mother, a coach, a business owner and, above all, a woman, I can show that, be in it couture or curlers, in a power-suit or pyjamas, we can all be heroines even if we don't always feel (or look) the part.

PLUS - Camp Fire Talks - Triumphs and Trials – The Round Table Forum – and much, much more!

We promised that The Heroine's Quest would be an adventure and naturally we've kept our word!
